There was very little demand for gold to-day, and soon after the opening the premium dropped for per cent. The speculators are not quite certain hat Mr. Hooper's resolution empowering the coretary of the Treasury to sell the surplus gold the government will not ultimately pass, not-lithstanding it was adversely reported upon by the Committee of Ways and Means. Mr. Hooper, Massachusetts, who first introduced the resolution and Mr. Means of this State who surplus and on, end Mr. Stebbins, of this State, who sup-orted it, are both members of that committee, whom comes from the Green Mountains of Vernout, another from the plains of Missouri, and a is supposed to have the most remote idea of the icated gold gambling operations which are carried on every daw in the vicinity of Wall street. If they had they probably would not have consented that a measure like the one proposed by Mr. Hooper should be returned to the House stamped with the disapproval of the committee We hope they may reconsider their action, and that Congress will invest the Secretary with power to at once put the ten or twelve millions of surplus gold affoat which now lie buried in the vaults of the Sub-Treasury. The opening price to-day was 1591/4; but it soon sold down to 1581/4.
